

Gesetzes-Buch des Königreichs Valoria (English)

Geschrieben von König Adam des Nordens, König von Valoria, und Prinz des Fürstentums Silberhain mit Hilfe des Valorianischen Rates

Revised Edition of 20.08.2026

CONSTITUTION OF THE KINGDOM OF VALORIA

Preamble

We, the people of Valoria, united under our Crown and acting as a fully sovereign and independent realm, establish this supreme framework. We dedicate our state to the lasting prosperity of our citizens, the protection of private property and free enterprise, absolute fiscal responsibility, national pride, and the security of every industrious Valorian. Valoria stands as a neutral trading power and a fortress of opportunity where honest labour, corporate innovation, and citizen well-being thrive together under the law.

ARTICLE 1 — REALM SOVEREIGNTY & PERMANENT NEUTRALITY

Valoria retains complete sovereignty and domestic autonomy over its internal laws, judicial structures, provincial administrations, economic policies, defence, and foreign relations.

As a trade-focused middle power, Valoria cultivates bilateral free-trade agreements and mercantile partnerships according to its national interest. The realm maintains strict and permanent geopolitical neutrality in foreign conflicts. Trade ports remain open; corporate investments and citizen property are protected from international instability. No alliance shall diminish the sovereignty established herein.

In matters of defence, no Valorian citizen-soldier shall be deployed to foreign offensive operations without an absolute majority vote of the Valorian Council and, where required, a confirmatory citizen referendum. National blood is never spilled for external conflicts that do not directly threaten Valorian territory or citizens. Mutual-defence treaties may be concluded by separate instrument, always subject to Council oversight and the right of refusal when Valorian interests are not served.

ARTICLE 2 — EXECUTIVE GOVERNANCE

The VRC (Vorsitz der Regionalen Commendateure) is the collective executive and legislative body of the realm. It drafts national laws, manages the budget in exceptional circumstances, oversees the Valorian Internal Service (VIS), and ensures the daily governance of the Kingdom. Decisions are taken by simple majority of the voting members present unless this Constitution requires a higher threshold.

Composition of the Valorian Council

The King — Serves as Head of State, guardian of the Constitution, and supreme commander of the citizen militia in defensive emergencies. The King holds a permanent seat and one vote in the Council. The King may veto any law that clearly violates core constitutional principles (sovereignty, neutrality, private property rights, free markets, or fundamental citizen rights). A subsequent 75% vote of the full Council may override the veto.

The Crown Prince — Holds a permanent seat and one vote in the Council. The Crown Prince represents the continuity of the realm, advises on long-term policy, and may exercise the King's functions during temporary incapacity or absence as regulated by statute. The Crown Prince has no independent veto power.

The Council Lords — Two Lords, each hold one equal vote. Lords are appointed by the Citizen with the advice of the existing Council and serve until resignation, removal for cause, or reassignment. Lords may get new Lordships for recognised cities under Article 2.1 without increasing the national voting power.

The Council operates under the principle of collegial responsibility: all members share collective accountability for decisions. The Council remains accountable to the citizenry through the direct-democratic mechanisms of this Constitution.

True Democratic Pathway (Direct Democracy)

Citizens retain the sacred right to petition and launch initiatives. If an initiative gathers valid signatures from 40 % of the active citizenry, it triggers automatic consideration by the Council. A binding public referendum must be opened within fourteen days. For ordinary matters a simple majority of votes cast decides; for core constitutional changes a 70 % majority of votes cast is required. This pathway ensures that the people may correct or direct policy without political gatekeeping.

Article 2.1 — Lordships for New Cities (Federal Principle)

When a new city is officially recognised by the Valorian Council, a local lordship may be established to oversee municipal administration, projects, and initiatives. Citizens participate in a one-time consultative vote among eligible candidates; the Council then confirms the appointment. The elected or confirmed Lord holds office until reassignment and reports to the Council on local matters. Local lordship does not confer an additional national vote in the Council. The city remains under Valorian sovereignty; ownership of public land stays with the Crown. Local statutes may grant limited autonomy over municipal affairs, trade facilitation, and cultural life consistent with this Constitution.

The Free City of Alter Hafen

Alter Hafen enjoys recognised, autonomy owing to its multi-national founding. It is governed locally by a fixed Lord of Alter Hafen with powers delegated in municipal statute. Alter Hafen operates under Valorian sovereignty but retains local rule over municipal affairs, trade administration, and cultural life, consistent with this Constitution and the free-market principles of the realm.

ARTICLE 3 — RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF CITIZENS

All Valorian citizens are equal before the law and enjoy the baseline rights to personal safety, free expression, private property, free enterprise, freedom of contract, and a fair public trial. These rights may not be suspended except under the narrow emergency conditions of Article 11.3 of the Law Codex and never permanently.

As a free-market realm dedicated to its citizens, the Crown guarantees that markets remain competitive and open to any citizen with the drive to build wealth. Every citizen may found a business, own property without artificial limit, enter contracts freely, and keep the full fruits of their labour.

Citizens retain the right to bear arms after a simple VIS registration check. The state provides high-quality defensive training to all registered members of the territorial citizen militia. Service in the militia is for males a duty; the government strongly encourages every able citizen to join and treats all Valorians equally regardless of background.

The government may take exceptional security measures in times of war or certified national emergency, subject to prompt Council review and never suspending the core human and property rights of citizens.

ARTICLE 4 — STRATEGIC NEUTRALITY & CAPITALIST ECONOMY

Valoria's policy prioritises commerce, corporate innovation, fair trade, and private enterprise. Taxation by the government is permanently forbidden. In exceptional emergency circumstances only, temporary civic contributions or defensive service hours may be enacted under direct Council law, with full and prompt repayment or restitution of any assets taken or damaged.

To foster national economic strength while remaining open, enterprises are strongly encourage and asked to relocate to Valoria, employ local citizens, respect the Constitution, and contribute to prosperity. Non-Valorian companies are welcome and treated fairly. In Business politics shall not intervene.

Valoria formally recognises the legitimacy of negotiated free-trade agreements. Such agreements may be entered into by the Council with proper oversight. The realm maintains strict geopolitical neutrality, keeps trade ports open, and protects corporate investments and citizen property from international instability.

ARTICLE 5 — SECURITY, DEFENCE, AND THE CITIZEN ARMY

The defence of Valoria is a shared responsibility of the state and its citizens. The Valorian Internal Service (VIS) maintains domestic order and border security, while a trained citizen militia exists for territorial defence. Citizens may also volunteer for advanced military formations under Council regulation. Mobilisation for any external campaign shall strictly follow Council procedures and, where required, a citizen referendum. Valoria emphasises defensive readiness and avoids entanglement in foreign power struggles. The realm retains the sovereign right to refuse participation in any conflict that does not serve Valorian security or the direct protection of its citizens.

ARTICLE 6 — CULTURE, IDENTITY, AND LOCAL AUTONOMY

Valorian culture, language, and heritage shall be preserved and actively promoted by the state. Other cultures are respected within Valoria and in Alter Hafen’s multicultural administration, provided they do not seek to undermine the constitutional order, free markets, private property, or the peaceful coexistence of citizens.

Acts intended to provoke civil unrest through cultural mockery, or to incite race, class, or ideological warfare, are legally discouraged and addressed within the bounds of law and proportionality. Support for any ideology that seeks the abolition of private property, the violent overthrow of the constitutional order, or the systematic subordination of citizens to a collective doctrine is incompatible with this Constitution and punishable under the Law Codex. Specifically banned are; Communism and other forms of socialism, Fascism and any sub-ideologies.

ARTICLE 7 — TREASON, LOYALTY, AND PUBLIC OFFICE

Officials and citizens sworn into public office shall pledge loyalty to Valoria and respect Valorian national obligations. Treason, rebellion, or deliberate acts of subversion against the realm are prosecutable under the law. The Council holds constitutional authority to review alleged breaches by high officials; formal adjudication remains the remit of the Royal Court.

ARTICLE 8 — THE RULE OF LAW

All citizens and officials are unconditionally bound by this Constitution. Laws may be enacted by the Valorian Council and require formal assent as defined in national statute. The King acts as guardian of the Constitution and may sit as final judge in constitutional matters when called upon. Ordinary criminal and civil cases are heard by the Royal Court under procedures that guarantee fairness, transparency of evidence, and the right of defence. The Royal Court forms part of the judicial structure overseen by the VIS and the Council.

ARTICLE 9 — AMENDMENTS AND CITIZEN REFERENDA

This Constitution may be amended by a majority of the Valorian Council and approval by the King, or by constitutional process initiated via citizen referendum when the signature threshold is met. For major structural changes (including alteration of Council composition, core sovereignty, neutrality, private-property clauses, or fundamental citizen rights), a supermajority of the Council and a confirmatory citizen referendum are both required. Procedures for citizen initiatives, thresholds, and referendum administration shall be detailed in implementing statute and kept simple, transparent, and accessible.

ARTICLE 10 — IMPLEMENTATION

This Constitution takes precedence over ordinary statute. Transitional provisions shall be enacted to reflect the current composition of the Valorian Council.

ARTICLE 11 — CONQUERED TERRITORIES & SOVEREIGN INTEGRATION

Section 1 — Security and Geopolitics

Any land brought under Valorian control shall be fully secured by the VIS and the citizen militia, using bases for strategic advantage and ensuring the safety of the realm. Lands owned by Valoria and not connected by continuous land shall be administered as Reichs Länder.

Section 2 — Local Administration and Governance

The King of Valoria, with the support of the Council, manages the daily affairs, economy, and infrastructure of the Reichs Länder. Valoria commits to establishing a stable, peaceful, and prosperous environment in every such territory so as to prevent revolutions or radical systemic changes. Valorian laws and free-market principles apply. The King receives the title “Souverän” for that region where appropriate. Silberhain is an exception regarding title and state type. Military-occupied regions are designated “Besatzungszone”; indirectly controlled regions are “Protektorat”; titles are chosen according to circumstances.

Section 3 — Political Participation and Voting Rights

Valorian citizens residing in any Reichs land have the right to vote in regular Valorian polls and referenda. Valoria continues the process of granting the people of the Reichs Länder a “Valorianischer Pass” as soon as practicable so that they may vote and engage in regional politics. Only holders of full Valorian citizenship may vote in national matters or actively engage in regional political office.

Section 4 — Enlightened Corporate Expansion

Trade between Valoria and its Reichs Länder shall be protected and promoted. Investors enjoy trading and resource-extraction rights in order to build regional commerce rapidly. Companies are strongly encouraged to expand into Reichs Länder under the same free-market rules that apply at home, while employing local citizens wherever practicable.

ARTICLE 12 — IMMIGRATION

Section 1 — General Authority

Immigration into the Kingdom of Valoria must be vetted and approved by the VIS prior to entry. Exceptions may be granted to recognised allies as explicitly outlined in active alliance treaties. Applicants contact the VIS. The following constitutional mandates apply to all foreign nationals.

Section 2 — Stages of Immigration (Valorianischer Einwanderungspass)

Stage C — Entry-level probationary stage. The VIS retains the absolute right to execute remigration or deportation at any time if the holder exhibits behaviour contrary to the security or interests of Valoria. Stage C is mainly for persons under strong suspicion or with past criminal records. Applicants may request to bypass this stage subject to VIS approval.

Stage B — Automatically granted to residents who demonstrate consistent good conduct over a period determined case-by-case by the VIS. Valid for a strict finite duration. Upon expiration the resident must apply for extension or petition to transition to Stage A.

Stage A — Acquired via official interview with a VIS agent authorised by the Council. The agent evaluates alignment with Valoria’s national identity, values, free-market culture, and respect for private property. Stage A has a non-extendable hard deadline structured to allow preparation for the Citizenship Examination. The VIS maintains a fair but rigorous evolving standard.

Stage F (Flüchtling) — Reserved exclusively for individuals fleeing active warfare. Status granted only after thorough background check. Holders may seek employment and receive baseline state aid if unemployed, but are strictly prohibited from owning property within Valoria. Upon cessation of hostilities they must repatriate or find an alternative host nation within a short period fixed by statute; failure results in removal proceedings.

Section 3 — The “Valorianischer Bürger Pass” (Citizenship)

Upon expiration of Stage A, or when an applicant deems themselves fully integrated, they may sit for the Citizenship Exam and subsequent final interview. The VIS delivers an immediate verdict. On failure the VIS may grant a brief Stage A extension or demote to Stage B. Full citizenship confers all political rights, including the right to vote and to launch initiatives.

Section 4 — Rights and Obligations

Immigrants of any probationary stage face immediate deportation if convicted of a criminal offence; the VIS is the sole arbiter of what constitutes a deportable offence under statute. Basic human protections are maintained across all stages; provisional rights scale with VIS security clearance. No non-citizen holds the right to vote or participate in Valorian referenda. Skilled workers, entrepreneurs, and those who demonstrably contribute to Valorian prosperity are fast-tracked wherever possible.

ARTICLE 13 — EDUCATION

Every Valorian citizen has the right to get education for free in whatever field they're fitted if they meet the requirements. They will have their school expenses paid and get a salary so that they can afford basic living essentials. In return Valoria expects them to contribute something to Valoria, like after graduation continuing to work for Valoria. Since Valoria has almost always been the number one in innovation in modern times and wants to stay competitive. There shall be multiple fields, focused on mathematics and physics, however there should also be other fields.

THE VALORIAN LAW CODEX

Title I — General Provisions

Article 1 — Purpose

The Valorian Law Codex ensures order, justice, and the systematic protection of Valoria's sovereignty, culture, free-market economy, private property, and citizens.

Article 2 — Supremacy of the Constitution

All laws derive their absolute authority from the Valorian Constitution. In any conflict, constitutional principles prevail.

Article 3 — Equality and Accountability

All Valorians are entirely equal before the law regardless of heritage, belief, or station. High office, elite lineage, or commercial wealth grants no immunity from criminal prosecution or anti-corruption laws. Code infractions by high officials are treated with heightened severity to maintain public trust.

Article 4 — Purpose of the Law

The Valorian legal system is designed to secure public order, absolute protection of property rights, business continuity, free contracts, and the systematic rehabilitation of offenders back into productive members of the free-market kingdom.

Title II — Crimes Against the Realm

Chapter 1 — Treason and Rebellion

Article 5.1 — High Treason

Deliberate actions intended to violently sabotage, subvert, or overthrow the Valorian Crown, its free-market economy, its constitutional order, or its collective alliances. Permanent exile or prison may be imposed; the penalty depends on the circumstances.

Article 5.2 — Sedition and Civil Disorder

Organising, funding, or leading violent demonstrations intended to oppose lawful authority or promote widespread municipal disorder. A heavy financial fine or prison is possible; conviction under Article 5.1 is also possible in aggravated cases.

Chapter 2 — Symbolic Acts and Loyalty

Article 6.1 — Insulting the Realm

Publicly mocking Valoria's core institutions or national symbols in a malicious way that intentionally incites civil disorder is punishable.

Article 6.2 — Royal Disrespect

Unlawful, targeted slander or malicious harassment of the Royal Family intended to destabilise public faith in the state is punishable.

Article 6.3 — Anti-Constitutional & Anti-Property Subversion

Publicly deploying banned radical symbols, organising riots intended to mock Valorian cultural identity or to incite internal race, class, or ideological warfare, or supporting any ideology that seeks the abolition of private property or the violent overthrow of the constitutional order, is punishable under this Codex.

Wilful refusal to comply with lawful civic orders from officials or targeted harassment of on-duty personnel is forbidden and will be punished.

Article 7.2 — Threats and Harassment

Threatening, coercive, or highly predatory behavioural harassment against any citizen is punishable.

Article 7.3 — Destruction of Property

Intentional damage to public infrastructure or private citizen property is punishable. Full restitution is required.

Chapter 2 — Theft, Fraud, and Deception

Article 8.1 — Theft

Taking the property, assets, or goods of another without clear and documented consent. Full return of all goods is mandatory; additional fines or imprisonment are possible.

Article 8.2 — Fraud

Deceit, corporate misrepresentation, or financial scamming for material gain. Full repayment to the victim plus fines or imprisonment.

Article 8.3 — Exploitation of Loopholes

Exploiting obvious statutory gaps to gain an unfair, non-competitive market advantage. Such acts will be immediately remedied by judicial penalty and swift legislative correction.

Article 8.4 — Confiscated Assets

All fines or goods that are confiscated belong to the Valorian Government, therefore to the King of Valoria, and are used for the common prosperity of the realm and its citizens.

Chapter 3 — Public Morality and Health

Article 9.1 — Drug Prohibition

Non-authorised production, trade, smuggling, or use of illegal narcotics. Licensed scientific or medical exceptions apply under strict regulation. Possible penalties include asset confiscation, prison, or fines.

Article 9.2 — Disorderly Conduct

Public intoxication, violent outbursts, or indecent acts that explicitly disrupt the marketplace or public peace are punished with fines.

Title IV — Economic and Administrative Laws (Business-Friendly Core)

Article 10.1 — Free Markets & Anti-Oligarchic Rules

Products from Valoria shall be promoted so that the money stays within its investors/Valoria. Barriers to entry for new businesses are kept as low as practicable.

Article 10.2 — Corruption and Abuse of Office

Public officials engaging in bribery, extortion, or corporate favouritism face immediate dismissal, permanent blacklisting, asset seizure, and severe criminal sanction.

Article 10.3 — Tax and Contribution

Valoria forbids taxation. In exceptional emergency circumstances only, mandatory civic contributions or defensive service hours may be temporarily enacted under direct Council law and oversight, with full payment and return of any assets taken or damaged.

Article 10.4 — Easy Company Formation & Contracts

Any citizen (and any Stage A resident with VIS approval) may found a business by simple written declaration registered with the local Lord or the Council. Partnerships or business agreements involving shared profits must be formally written down and signed by both parties. Oral agreements are valid for small everyday trades but written form is strongly recommended and required for significant sums. Contracts are sacred; breach without valid emergency allows the injured party to claim full damages in court.

Title V — Rights and Safeguards

Article 11.1 — Right to Fair Trial

Every accused individual has the absolute right to a legal defence, professional representation, and a structured appeal process. No secret or illegal evidence may ever be used to convict a citizen.

Article 11.2 — Privacy and Dignity

Private correspondence, homes, corporate offices, and personal property are completely protected from unlawful intrusion. The VIS always has the right to search private property if there is a valid, documented suspicion of crime.

Article 11.3 — Emergency Suspension of Rights

In times of certified war or critical national emergency, certain civic rights may be temporarily limited by lawful decree, unless they violate basic human rights of the Valorian citizen.

Title VI — Implementation and Interpretation

Article 12.1 — Judiciary Authority

The Royal Court of Valoria interprets this Codex; its rulings set clear, binding national legal precedents. One of the Council members is chosen as judge according to involvement in the case, or an independent judicial officer may be appointed. Trials are held with appropriate solemnity; every piece of evidence and the final verdict are kept private unless exceptions are made to prevent leakage of private information or to serve the public interest in transparency.

Article 12.2 — Enforcement

The Valorian Internal Service (VIS) enforces this Codex under strict oversight of the Council and remains entirely subject to judicial review to prevent overreach.

Article 12.3 — Amendments to the Codex

Laws within this Codex may be modified by the Council with comprehensive oversight and the formal assent required by the Constitution. Citizen initiatives may also propose Codex changes under the same thresholds as constitutional amendments.

Title VII — Special Provisions

Article 13.1 — Silberhain

Silberhain is independent but follows Valorian law and the constitution. It operates as a member state of Valoria.

Title VIII — The Court System

Article 14.1 — Cost for Lawyer / Legal matters

The government covers those cost as part of the Valorian citizens rights.

Title X — Civil, Property, and Daily Kingdom Laws

Article 15.1 — Land Boundaries

Boundaries are made by the Crown or local Lords to define property lines. Moving a boundary secretly is a criminal offence.

Article 15.2 — Abandoned Property

If a house or plot of land is left unused for more than sixty days without prior notice, the Crown may reclaim it and offer it for productive use, with preference given to Valorian citizens.

Article 15.3 — Right of Way

Citizens may cross private land if it is the only accessible route, provided they cause no damage.

Article 15.4 — Renting Fairness

To preserve social peace and protect citizens from predatory exploitation, landlords must give tenants a minimum of seven days' formal written notice before an eviction can take place. Instantaneous evictions are strictly illegal, unless the tenant has committed verifiable property destruction or has wilfully refused rental payment for over ten consecutive days.

Article 15.5 — Collateral Protection

If a citizen borrows money using their home or tools as collateral, the lender cannot seize the property without an explicit VIS order after due process.

Article 15.6 — Building Style

Any structure built in a city must match the architectural style of the district, preserving the visual order and pride of Valoria.

Article 15.7 — Human-Dignity Restorative Service (No Debt Slavery)

Debt slavery and the physical ownership of individuals are permanently prohibited. In cases where a citizen incurs a certified, unpayable civil debt, they are partnered with a fair-wage enterprise. A protected portion of their earnings is strictly reserved for essential living expenses (housing and food), while the surplus is routed to satisfy the lender until the ledger is cleared. This mechanism safeguards the creditor's capital while preserving the debtor's human dignity. For citizens in good standing the Council may contribute supplementary funds to accelerate repayment. In cases of genuine hardship caused by involuntary job loss (not crime or negligence), the Council may pay a substantial portion or even one hundred percent of the debt, fully restoring the citizen's financial standing.

Article 15.8 — Fair Wages & Labour Market

Workers must be paid exactly the amount agreed upon in their contract; wage theft by employers is heavily penalised. The Valorian economy operates primarily through free private enterprise and direct government company contracting. Companies operating in Valoria can secure contracts with the government or private parties; they can decide freely. Foreign enterprises are encouraged to relocate and employ local citizens. The labour market operates on a direct bilateral request system: if an enterprise declares a labour deficit or the government identifies a production gap, they can contact the state. The Council reviews the registry of citizens, matches qualified individuals, and offers a contract with a fair salary. Private contracts remain fully legal and encouraged. Preferring trade with the government is not mandatory but strengthens a company's relation with Valoria.

Article 15.9 — Industrial Safety and Corporate Liability

Workers must remain personally alert. Industrial employers must mention workplace safety where hazards exist. If a worker is injured and has a contract guaranteeing a safe environment, the employer is automatically held fully liable. The government guarantees to pay victims if they are not protected by the employer. In the event of an industrial accident the Council guarantees immediate financial care and compensation. While the law does not impose gruelling mandatory safety bureaucracy, the Council remains highly protective of citizens: enterprises that neglect basic human safety and cause death or severe injury of Valorian citizens will face extreme disfavour, economic pressure, and heavy sovereign penalties. Valorian lives are never treated as expendable.

Article 15.10 — Contract Breaking

Walking away from a half-finished building or service contract without a valid emergency allows the victim to claim full damages in court.

Title XI — Military Laws

Chapter 1 — Weaponry and Military Service

Article 16.1 — Weapon Registration

People have the right to bear arms after completing the simple VIS check-up as part of the citizen militia.

Article 16.2 — Conscription Readiness

In times of defensive emergency, every able-bodied citizen registered in the militia must be ready to fight, meaning having their gear stored somewhere accessible or with them.

Article 16.3 — Militia Equipment

Citizens must keep their personal armour and weapons functional and ready for inspection by the VIS. Additional private equipment may be brought if it does not challenge the law.

Article 16.4 — Banned Public Drawing

Drawing a weapon in an aggressive manner inside a tavern or public square, unless in clear self-defence, is a severe breach of peace.

Article 16.5 — Citizen Militia Service

Every able citizen is strongly encouraged to join the citizen militia to ensure a strong nation. The militia is a duty for man; the government treats every Valorian the same and values every contribution to defence.

Chapter 2 — Diplomacy

Article 17.1 — Diplomatic Immunity

Official ambassadors sent by allies cannot be arrested by the VIS without the King's personal approval, unless they pose an immediate physical threat or if a state of war exists between Valoria and their nation.

CLOSING CLAUSE

Let this Enlightened Codex stand as the ultimate shield of our realm. It guarantees that Valoria remains a secure haven of free-market prosperity, a powerhouse of national pride, a permanently neutral trading hub, and a safe, legally logical fortress of stability and opportunity for every citizen and entrepreneur who drives our nation forward. Sealed under the Crown.